Finca Antigua Blanco DO, La Mancha, Spain, grape variety: Viura

In 1889, Joaquín Martínez Bujanda founded the winery that still bears his name today. Today the Familia owns vineyards in the Rioja, Rueda and La Mancha. The hallmark of the finca is the unusual approach to the selection of the grapes for the individual wines, because each parcel is intended for the production of a different wine. Finca Blanco has fresh aromas of citrus, peach, pear and subtle floral notes. Very fresh and aromatic on the palate with a long finish.

Open Wine Red

Valpolicella Ripasso DOC, Cantina La Giaretta, Veneto, Italy

The winemaker from the Italian winery La Giaretta is an absolute master of his craft. Style and finesse are the hallmarks of this red wine, which has its origins in the flourishing and fertile landscape of Veneto. Culinary tip from the bottle's purveyors: This Corvina can be served excellently with roasts or game. Be served. Open bouquet of red cherries, dried fruits and sweet spices; softly flowing body on the palate with an enormously delicate fruit, ripe plums and cinnamon notes accompanied by an elegant tannin structure, the fruit acidity is present but compelling here for the strong dishes of the season.

Fläscher Pinot Noir AOC, Weingut Davaz, Fläsch, Grisons, Swiss

Davaz is an established name in the Bündner Herrschaft region, and one with tradition: the first vines were planted in the best location of Das Weingut in Fläsch as early as 1972. This laid the foundation for the success story of Davaz wines. In order to devote themselves even more to the vineyard and to be close to it, the parents Hans and Annemarie moved with their five children directly to the newly built vineyard settlement between Fläsch and Maienfeld. With a lot of passion and commitment, it did not take long for the wines to develop from insider tips to absolute top wines. And so the loyal clientele grew continuously. In the meantime, Micha and Luca - the sons of Andrea and Marianne Davaz - are the third generation to work in the winery and ensure that tradition, values and craftsmanship are carried into the future.

The intense berry fruit on the nose can only be shown by a youthful, perfect Pinot Noir without wood ageing! Sensual, fleshy and well structured - this wine has everything it takes to be a wine full of character.

Laurent Perrier Champagne La Cuvée, Champagne, France

The Champagne wine-growing region is the area authorized for the cultivation of the basic champagne wines. The best locations are in the regions of Verzenay, Bouzy-Ambonnay, Avoize, Oger and the Grande Vallée de la Marne. From 898 to 1825 the kings of France were crowned in Reims, in the heart of Champagne. The wines were valued for their aromas and excellent taste, and monarchs who visited the region were given homage by serving them champagne.

Malanser Pinot Blanc AOC, Von Salis, Grisons

Motivated by his enthusiasm for good wines, Andrea Davaz founded von Salis AG with two friends in 1994. For 25 years, he has been passionate about wine and has sought out the best wines from all over the world for customers. Over the years, he has been able to win over more than 20 highly trained employees who keep track of a constantly growing range of wines in the Vinothek Maienfeld. Pinot Blanc is on the nose as fruity raspberry notes, rock candy and also some wild herbs; on the palate a velvety, elegant body with a flattering fruit sweetness, again raspberries and then gingerbread spices.

Petite Arvine Aphrodine AOC, Albert Mathier, Valais

The Mathier family, now well known, immigrated to Salgesch in the Valais from Marseille in the 14th century. During the world economic crisis, in the 1920s, he tried to defy the recession and planted vines on various slopes. In this way, Albert Mathier laid the foundation stone for the Mathiers' wine history in Switzerland. Aphrodine presents itself with an intense bouquet reminiscent of exotic fruits, such as pineapple and lime. Taste: full-bodied, refreshing and lively with mineral flavours and grapefruit aromas. Two essential components define the tasting: salt and grapefruit, which make the wine an exceptional pleasure. Grape variety: Petit Arvine

75cl 69

Mayenfelder Cuvée Blanche AOC, Schloss Salenegg, Maienfeld, Grisons

This cuvée ideally combines the elegant structure of the Pinot Noir with the fresh fruit of Chardonnay. The Cuvée Blanche has an open bouquet with a fine apricot note, a pleasant sweetness and is golden yellow with a fine red gold tinge. Juicy on the palate with lively, refreshing acidity, with a subtle spicy note in the finale.

Basa Blanco DO, Telmo Rodriguez, Toro

Telmo Rodriguez produces the wine Basa Blanco, a very popular white wine. The name comes from old shrubs that resemble goblets in shape. The Basa is a pleasing white wine. It is made from the fragrant Verdejo grape variety, which has adapted perfectly to the continental climate. The vines grow on limestone gravel soils. The grapes produce a fresh, fruity, citrus-scented juice, which matures over several months in special steel tanks. Telmo Rodriguez strives to produce original wines based on local traditions and grape varieties that grow in central Spain. The Basa Blanco was named the best white wine of the Rueda in 2011 on the occasion of El Mundo Vino. Grape variety: Verdejo & Viura

Fabelhaft Branco, Niepoort Vinhos, Douro

The Fabelhaft Branco is a good example of Niepoort's philosophy thanks to its taut and mineral character. It presents itself fresh, with flavours of herbs and citrus fruits. Despite its youth, it suggests great potential. A wine full of finesse and elegance with an electrifying finish that won't let you go. The grapes are transported chilled to Quinta de Nápoles, where they are carefully selected and then pressed. Spontaneous fermentation takes place at a controlled temperature in stainless steel tanks. The wine then matures for six months on the fine lees. The story In order to express the character of the Douro in a white wine, Dirk Niepoort climbed high up in search of vineyards with indigenous grape varieties grown on mica schist and expressing the character of the rocky valley.

Humagne Rouge AOC, Cave de Bernunes, Valais

Founded in 1987 in Sierre-Chippis, the Cave des Bernunes vineyard between Sierre and Salgesch is still distinguished by its precise, clear style. In the heart of the Bernunes vineyards, the soil has a mixture of fine-grained earth. The local microclimate still shapes the taste of the characteristic wine and provides the basis for the development of the grape varieties. The founder of the winery is Nicolas Zuffrey, who according to Gault&Millau is one of the 100 best winemakers in Switzerland. The winemaker and cellar master of Cave des Bernunes first completed an apprenticeship as a winemaker and cellar master before vinifying the family's grapes for the first time. He describes his devotion to the grape with the words "C'est le raisin qui fait le vin", which means "The grape makes the wine".

Humagne Rouge - In the aroma bright red fruits, as well as floral notes like violets. The palate reflects flavours of wild strawberry and redcurrant, well structured with soft tannins and a medium-long finish. Grape variety:

Fläscher Pinot Noir AOC, Christian Hermann, Fläsch, Grisons

Christian Hermann, meanwhile, is a good friend of our house. Although his rare wines now enjoy cult status and his production can indeed be described as tiny, we get a handsome allocation every year. At every visit, Christian inspires us anew with his unusually clear idea of how his wines should taste. He tends his vineyard practically with nail scissors, the yields should be low, he harvests the grapes ripe but not overripe, because he is looking for dark fruit, structure and spice, but above all finesse. In order to achieve tannins that are as dense as possible but still fine and silky, he is one of the few top vintners in the world to ferment in a Ganimede fermentation tank.

The result is a wine with a unique character: beautifully balanced with incredible aroma density and power, packed with the finest fruit, almost too good to be true! Tasting notes: Black berries and currants dominate the magnificent bouquet. Typical Pinot Noir aroma. Powerful and elegant at the same time with fine tannins.

Tempranillo from a privileged single vineyard. The grapes of the grape variety Tinta del País (Tempranillo) come from the single vineyard "Valtarrena", the vines are 45 to 55 years old. In the glass a dense, viscous wine red with purple reflexes, the nose shows aromas of blackberries, black cherries, cassis, blueberries, liquorice, bread crust, the palate is full-bodied, with nicely integrated tannins. Matured for 24 months in French barriques.

Grape variety: Tempranillo

Finca Antigua Crianza Unico DO, La Mancha

In 1889, Joaquín Martínez Bujanda founded the winery that still bears his name. Today, the familia owns vineyards in Rioja, Rueda and La Mancha. The hallmark of Finca Antigua is the unusual approach to selecting the grapes for each wine, as each plot here is dedicated to making a different wine. Toasted coffee beans, cherries and elderberry on the nose; dense fruit on the palate, full-bodied flow with ripe tannins, roasted nuts and subtle cinnamon notes.

Grape variety: Tempranillo, Cabernet Sauvignon, Merlot, Syrah

Mas Mallola DOQ, Marco Abella, Priorat, Porrera

The Marco Abella family had been growing grapes in the Priorat since the 15th century, but like many other families, they emigrated to Barcelona after the phylloxera plague destroyed virtually all the vineyards in the late 19th century. Fortunately, however, the family decided to keep their house and vineyard property in Porrera. The wine has intense fruity aromas. Fresh strawberries, raspberries, cherries and flowers are predominant, with subtle hints of anise, fennel and sweet vanilla, as well as toasty aromas and earthy slate. Fresh and juicy on the palate, velvety tannins. Grape variety: Garnacha Tinta & Carignan

Mauro Tinto Cosecha DO, Bodegas Mauro, Castilla y León

Bodegas Mauro, is the project of the legendary Castilian winemaker Mariano García and his sons Alberto and Eduardo. The winery and the majority of the 80 self-owned vineyards are located just a few kilometres west of the border of the DO Ribera del Duero. The wines are made based on Tempranillo, although the entry-level wine Mauro has had 10% Syrah in the cuvée for several years. While Mauro hardly meets new wood, the selection wine Vendimia Seleccionada matures only in new oak. Mauro is unquestionably one of the greatest Tempranillos in the world.

Dark chocolate, plums, cinnamon cherries and dried bananas on the nose; powerful on the palate with soft tannins and fleshy body, well balanced, showing clear cherry aromas again towards the finish. Grape variety: Tempranillo & Syrah

Al-muvedre DO Tinto Monastrell, Telmo Rodriguez, Alicante

The Al-Muvedre reveals fruity aromas of red and dark berries. On the palate, it has a great freshness and light, round tannins. A perfect food companion for lighter meals or for an evening on the terrace.

The grapes come from bush vines which grow on sandy soils.

Vinification / Maturation:

Fermentation and ageing in steel tanks to preserve the fresh fruit aromas.

Grape variety: Monastrell

Rioja Crianza DOCa Bodegas Paco Garcia, Rioja

The Bodegas owns 40 hectares of its own vines in the central area of La Rioja. The average age of the vines is 30 years. The hand symbolises the hard and passionate work of the Paco Garcia family. The Garcia family's idea was clear, to make something different from the others. Modern, fruity, spicy wines with an eye-catching design. On the nose, a complex bouquet with a slightly spicy note, fruity and mineral.

On the palate, aromas of ripe fruit, reminiscent of truffles, balanced and velvety wine.

Grape variety: Tempranillo, Garnacha

Bin 128 Coonawarra Shiraz, Penfolds,

Penfolds Winery was founded in 1844 by Dr Christopher Penfold and his wife Mary. The nose reveals aromas of black truffles, mushrooms and black cherries with notes of violets and dark chocolate. On the palate, dark fruits and violets dominate. Matured for 12 months in French oak. Terroir: Red and tawny loam over a clay layer. Grape variety: Syrah

Bin 407 Cabernet Sauvignon, Penfolds

The Penfolds Bin 407 does not open immediately, but then releases the typical Cabernet aromas of ripe blackcurrants, mulberries, blueberries before notes of heather, tomato (leaves). On the palate, the 407 is clearly focused, ripe and full-bodied, fleshy, juicy with slightly sweet earthy spicy hints (fresh beetroot), notes of pickled black cherries with a hint of mint, the tannin is vibrantly present but powdery gently matured, the new oak (a third after all!), long finish. For Penfolds Bin 407, the Cabernet Sauvignon is fermented traditionally, the wine aged for twelve months in new French (27%) and American oak (7%) barrels, as well as in American oak barrels from multiple occupancy (66%).

Grange Bin 95, Penfolds

The winemaker from the Australian winery Penfolds is an absolute master of his craft. Style and finesse are the hallmarks of this red wine, which has its origins in the enchanting and sunny landscape of South Australia. A must for connoisseurs, this powerful Cabernet Sauvignon 2010 - Bin 95 Grange! This Cabernet Sauvignon can be served very well with ribeye steak or red meat. The Bin 95 Grange's playful aromas of stewed fruit, spices and tobacco express a lot of complexity with a very special structure. Next, the prominent nuances of black cherry, black plum and black pepper show their own character. A fruity red wine with a strong body and dominant acidity, which unfolds its complex structure on the tongue in a balanced way with finely developed tannins.

Decero Malbec, Bodegas Finca Decero, Mendoza

With this distinctive red wine 2017 - Decero Malbec Mendoza, the term taste takes on a new meaning. The winemaker from the Argentine winery Bodegas Finca Decero masters this red wine with sensitivity and intuition in the sunny and enchanting landscape of Mendoza.

That's Argentina. A master malbec with meat on the bone. The first aromas are reminiscent of blackberry jam, blueberries, chocolate, coffee and hearty roasted aromas. On the palate, concentrated aromas of dark berries and a harmonious combination of fine-grained tannins, elegant acidity and a strong body, accompanied by a creamy texture. The absolute highlight of every barbecue evening, on which fine pieces of meat are looking for the right companion and found with Decero Malbec.

Grape variety: Malbec

Decero Syrah, Bodegas Finca Decero, Mendoza

The Syrah vines at Finca Decero are grown on soils rich in clay. The vineyards are situated at an altitude of 1050 m.a.s.l. The cool nights help to preserve the natural acidity and freshness of the aromas. The Decero Syrah shows fleshy aromas, fig and mineral notes. The wine's structure is reminiscent of Syrah from the northern Rhône. The tannins are open but not grippy and the wine has a long fruity finish. Finca Decero, once a bare patch of earth in the Argentinian foothills of the Andes, is now a single vineyard.

Grape variety: Syrah

Puro Malbec, Ojo de Vino, Aqua, Dieter Meier, Mendoza

Agrelo Alto, Mendoza. In 1997 the artist and "Yello" star Dieter Meier decided to emigrate to Argentina part-time. He bought 2,200 hectares of land in the Argentine pampas and founded his organic farm with a vineyard called Ojo de Agua. Today his PURO wines are cult.

A young, fruit-intensive Malbec of a dense purple-red. In the fragrance notes of cooked fruits, herbs such as thyme and mint, and also subtle ground rock. Soft and full on the palate, very nice, juicy Malbec fruitiness that lingers for a long time, nice, soft tannins give the wine the necessary structure. Malbec at its best!

Grape variety: Malbec

Ornellaia DOC, Tenuta dell'Ornellaia, Toscana, Bolgheri, IT

The Tenuta dell'Ornellaia winery is hidden in the hills near Bolgheri. It was founded in 1981 by Lodovico Antinori - he realized that this area is predestined for the classic varieties from Bordeaux. Today it is one of the great classics in the world of wine. The hills of Tuscany are excellent for high quality viticulture. In addition, the soils are ideally suited to allow classic French grape varieties as well as local grapes to flourish. The top wine ages in barriques for around 20 months. The intense, rich and dense palate impresses with great concentration and powerful, velvety and lively tannins, which give wine a great structure.

TRES South Tyrol Merlot Cabernet Riserva DOC, Kurtatsch Winery, South Tyrol, IT

Redefining the limits of what is possible - that was the aspiration when TRES was created. The qualitative crowning glory of the vineyard sites in Kurtatsch is the warm and steep Brenntal site.

Thanks to the large day/night temperature difference and the ideal soils for the Merlot, Cabernet Franc and Cabernet Sauvignon varieties, an inimitable Alpine-Mediterranean cuvée is created. In the very best vintages, the three oldest and best plots of our three most important varieties are harvested and vinified under the lowest yields. Three values, symbolised by three cypresses and the best of three grape varieties combined in one wine: TRES.

Sassicaia DOC, Tenuta San Guido, Toscana, Bolgheri, IT

The famous Tenuta San Guido winery is located on the Tuscan Mediterranean coast near Bolgheri. The winery is owned by Marchese Nicolò Incisa della Rocchetta. The style of the house is designed for elegance and finesse.

The climate is crucial for optimal ripening of the grapes. After the grapes are gently squeezed, the must fermentation takes around 15 days. The young wine is then aged in French barriques for 22 months. In 1968, the first official Sassicaia vintage consisted of only 4,000 bottles. Today seven vineyards deliver around 180,000 bottles annually. Sassicaia has wonderful notes of dark berries and light toasted aromas. Strong and full of well integrated tannins. The reverberation is long, and the aromas of the bouquet come back to the finale - terrific!

Enjoy with a festive meal and fine meat dishes.

Amarone Classico Della Valpolicella Riserva „La Mattonara,, Agricola Zymé, IT

Veneto is the most diverse wine-growing region in Italy. It stretches from Lake Garda along the Alpine foothills to the Adriatic lagoon near Venice and further northeast to the border with Friuli. White wine makes up a quarter of production - the rest goes to the red fraction. The province of Verona scores with Soave, Valpolicella and Bardolino, as well as with what is probably the most popular Italian wine - Amarone - a top red wine in the country with a world-famous reputation. "La Mattonara is aged in large wooden barrels for nine years.

Enormously dense with a lot of creaminess, roasted nut aromas, very concentrated and yet elegant, harmonious, finely woven, perfect tannins, endless finish. Belongs to the best red wines in the world! Grape variety: Corvina & Rondinella & Molinara

Château Mouton Rothschild 1er Grand Cru Classé AC Pauillac, Bordeaux

In elegant garnet red with violet reflections, Mouton appears to us in the glass. The nose is fresh, very expressive and precise with notes of blackberries, black cherries, liquorice and a hint of minerality. The palate is creamy and full-bodied, with a beguiling sweetness that envelops the noble and powerful tannins. The finish is racy and long.

Château Mouton Rothschild received its current name after it was acquired in 1853 by Baron Nathaniel de Rothschild from the English branch of the famous dynasty. For a long time, despite the increasingly recognised quality of its wine, Mouton hardly aroused the interest of its owners, who were unwilling to travel to what was then a disadvantaged region. It was therefore a good day when Baron Philippe de Rothschild, in 1922 at the age of 20, took over the reins of a winery to which he was to devote his life.

Château Haut-Brion 1er Grand Cru Classé AOC, Pessac-Léognan, Bordeaux

The wine-growing area of the DO Pessac-Léognan designation of origin is of French origin, a sub-region of the Graves and located south of the city of Bordeaux, being home to the towns of Pessac Léognan, Mériignac, Talence and Grézillac.

The grape varieties used for white wine production in this region are the Sémillon and the Sauvignon. As far as red wine production is concerned, the grapes used are mainly Cabernet Sauvignon and Merlot. The red wines of this region are characterised by their notes of red berries, ripe fruit and cocoa, while the white wines are reminiscent of orange sticks, wood and passion fruit. The DO Pessac-Léognan still cultivates all the Crus Classés that were assigned to it in '53 and '59. years. The vineyards from which the Pessac-Léognan wine originates cover 1,350 hectares of gravel soil.
